It is rumored that something will soon develop in the governorship situation.

Have you clipped your May 15 coupons from your second Liberty loan bonds?

From the date of the establishment of flying camps and schools in this country and at Camp Borden, Toronto, until April 24, 1918, there have been 102 deaths in flying accidents.

In the death of Elisha May of St. Johnsbury northeastern Vermont loses another of those splendid men who have made Vermont the state she is and hopes to be. This type of Vermont is fast passing from the stage of action and a new generation rapidly moving to the front. So it ever will be.

Harry A. Black of Newport appears to be the one avowed candidate now for secretary of state and it is said he has strong support from nearly every part of Vermont. Mr. Black has been an efficient clerk of the house and should be elected to this important office he will no doubt make a competent official.

Complaint about the high price of meats is common but no one has yet complained about the cost of fresh fish taken by the angler, himself. Time, gasoline consumed, and all expenses counted the average meal of fresh fish will cost in the vicinity of $1 per pound. But what's a dollar a pound for your own fresh fish?

To date there is every indication that Orleans will raise and probably exceed its Red Cross quota of $8000. Wouldn't it be a magnificent thing if every town exceeded its quota in this drive as they did in the Liberty Loan campaign? Quotas may not appear exactly just and equitable in every instance, neither did they in the loan, but that should make no difference. Let every town do its best.

A tour through any considerable section of Vermont shows what the farmers are doing in the way of planting. Great acreages of land are plowed and being seeded and often the toil and sacrifice of the farmer is apparent when one happens to pass in the early morning or late evening and finds those sturdy tillers of the soil at work, or perhaps the women of the household are seen toiling in one capacity or another to help carry on the very necessary work of large agricultural production. All honor to these soldiers of the soil.

This paper takes occasion to pay a word of respect to the men in our towns who are bearing the brunt of the drives and campaigns made necessary by the war. The task is often a thankless one. It carries with it much hard work. It always means criticism. There is never any remuneration. Everyone at all times should help to make the task as agreeable and as light as possible. The work is necessary because of the war. The war must be carried on. Democratic people must volunteer or be drafted for these tasks as others volunteer or are drafted for army service. Our respects to the splendid men and women who are giving of their time for these tasks.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

Vermont Raises Much Wheat.
Vermont goes over the top again, doubling her estimated wheat acreage. About 10,000 acres are sowed to wheat this year. At an average yield this ought to give 300,000 bushels, which will make 60,000 barrels of flour, besides the by-products. This would be a respectable portion of the wheat products consumed in Vermont. With proper coaxing we can raise all we need.—Randolph Herald and News.Watch for "Wet" Scouts.
"Wet" scouts are already out getting a line on public sentiment in Vermont regarding the federal amendment for national prohibition. This question will probably be the leading one so far as state issues are concerned, in the fall campaign, and with the announcement of candidates for the house and senate, it will be expected that candidates will come out in the open and make their position clear.—Enosburg Standard.Community House for East Burke.
The village of East Burke, one of the least populous in Vermont is to have a public library and community house, the gift of Elmer A. Darling. The new structure is bound to be the center of village activities and as such makes a very fine present. Elmer A. Darling, it will be recalled, is the Vermont farmer who went to New York City and made money in the hotel business, then retired to Burke, where he owns a splendid property.—Barre Times.Weekly Goes to $2 a Year.
The Bellows Falls Times has advanced its subscription price to $2 a year, and it is easily worth it. Many people do not realize the extent to which everything entering into the publication of a newspaper has soared in price, although most of us have a vivid idea of the high cost of living in general. As a matter of fact, there is not a good newspaper in the United States, daily or weekly, that is not worth vastly more than people are paying for it.—Burlington Free Press.Plenty of Money in Vermont.
"Motoring as usual" seems to apply in Vermont, for there were 5,000 more cars registered up to April 30, 1918, than for the same period last year. This spending may be due in part to the fact that the secretary of state required early application if former license holders wished their old numbers, but it is probably due in a measure to the increase in the number of motor vehicles. Vermont has not been "bled white" financially despite the demands of war and should be in position to meet other calls based on necessity.—Barre Times.Propaganda More Deadly than Shot.
German propaganda is more deadly than German artillery. It defeated the Italians and had not allied reinforcements arrived to stiffen up the Italian morale Italy might have been out of the fighting today. It disrupted Russia and is doing its destructive work in this country today. German propaganda is responsible for the slanders on the Red Cross, for stories concerning drunkenness among the American troops abroad, for every vile and disreputable story that is whispered from lip to lip. Many Americans listen to the stories and repeat them—they are in effect German propagandists. It is time for them to stop and the next time any such story is whispered to you ask the man if he is a German propagandist. Many Americans are playing the kaiser's game believing they are passing out "inside" information. It is time for these whisperers to stop or to be stopped.—Burlington News.Germans at Fort Ethan Allen.
The report is out that 2200 Germans, born in the Fatherland, but naturalized citizens of the United States, are to be mobilized at Fort Ethan Allen as the 310th cavalry and, after the requisite amount of training, will be sent to relieve the regulars at Honolulu and to guard the Mexican frontier. That they are not to be ordered abroad may be as much out of a delicate consideration for their natural repugnance to bearing arms directly against their own countrymen as out of a vague dread of their falling too readily into the hands of the enemy as prisoners of war and later forgetting all about their individual scruples of naturalization papers. On the whole it might be as well to send them all to Honolulu or Halifax or some other safely remote corner of the globe, and station on the Mexican frontier a guard that, possibly, would not be quite so acceptable to the kaiser's ardent admirer and well-wisher, Friend Camranza.—Springfield Reporter.Black Only Avowed Candidate.
State Senator Melvin G. Morse of Hardwick authorized the editor of the Free Press last evening to make the announcement that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, as he contemplated for a time. Senator Morse has accepted the call to go to France to do Y. M. C. A. war work for the benefit of our boys and consequently it will be impossible for him to take part in political affairs in Vermont for a long time to come. It is no secret that Senator Morse would have had considerable support if he had continued in the race for secretary of state. As the situation now stands the only avowed candidate for this honor is Harry A. Black of Newport, clerk of the Vermont house of representatives, who is well and favorably known, and deservedly popular, who has been conducting a strong canvass for some time. It is also well known that Secretary of State Fleetwood, who has filled the office so acceptably that he has been urged by many of his friends to accept a nomination for the office to which he was appointed when Secretary Guy W. Bailley resigned to accept the position of comptroller of the University of Vermont. It had been understood that Secretary Fleetwood would not be a candidate unless there was a general call for him. However the definite retirement of Senator Morse affects the whole situation as regards secretary of state remains to be seen.—Burlington Free Press.

VERMONT NOTES.

Attorney General Herbert G. Barber of Brattleboro has issued a statement that he would not be a candidate for re-election, but would devote his time to private practice after the expiration of his present term, January 31, 1919.

Major Harvey E. Goodell is sending to each station agent in Vermont a placard of the accomplishments of Vermont since the war commenced. These will give travelers who wait for trains an opportunity to see that Vermont has a record of which to be proud.

The annex to the state house in which the state library, supreme court room and Historical society have been since the construction of that portion of the building, is to be remodelled as soon as these rooms are vacated. The new building will accommodate these departments hereafter.

Justin C. Foss, aged 33 years, was instantly killed at his mill in Eden May 14, by a large pile of lumber falling upon him. He went down under the mill to oil up machinery and while there a platform over him on which there was a large pile of lumber, gave way and crushed him to death. His back was broken, his skull crushed, death being instantaneous. He leaves a wife and five children.

President John H. Thomas of Middlebury college has sent out a new and last appeal to the alumni and other friends of the college to raise the comparatively small amount which is necessary to bring the new special endowment fund up to the $400,000 mark originally aimed at by the first of July, the present shortage is about $47,000, so it is necessary to raise on an average of $1,000 a day in order to complete the fund in time.

Prof. Clyde M. Hill, who has been supervisor of the junior high school work in Vermont for three years, will not have that work this year, the school board of Springfield, Me., of which he is an instructor, having decided that it can not dispense with his services longer, having loaned him to Vermont for three years. Springfield is the home of the junior high school idea and Mr. Hill was the first man to bring it into the East, that branch of the work in New England. He has built up an excellent system here.

Just how the counties of the state are to give for the Red Cross war fund this week may be of interest. Here are the exact quotas:
Addison, $7,000.
Bennington, $20,000.
Caledonia, $15,000.
Chittenden, $30,000.
Essex, $2,000.
Franklin, $10,000.
Grand Isle, $1,000.
Lamoille, $4,000.
Orange, $6,000.
Orleans, $8,000.
Rutland, $44,000.
Washington, $15,000.
Windham, $14,000.
Windsor, $26,000.
Total, $202,000.

Articles have been filed in the secretary of state's office for the purpose of giving young people a chance to secure an education. It is the general Education Fund Inc. of Burlington. Articles set forth that the money shall be used for young men and women in securing a common school or university education, or both; to learn a trade, handicraft, business or profession; or to obtain instruction in domestic science, or may be used for gaining useful knowledge so long as they applying are worthy. Mrs. Emma Curtis died in 1909. In her will, which is now in the probate court, she bequeathed the sum of $125,000 for the purposes stated in the articles of incorporation.

F. H. Brooks of St. Johnsbury has been appointed United States Food administrator for Vermont to succeed James Hartness of Springfield, who was compelled to resign because of the pressure of other war work which he is connected. Mr. Hartness recently returned from Europe where he went as a member of the United States aircraft commission. Mr. Brooks will occupy the offices of the clerk and speaker of the house, these having been assigned to him for this purpose by Gov. Graham. The new food administrator is a well-known Vermonter, who for many years was connected with E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., of St. Johnsbury, having been president of the concern from 1912 until a few months ago. He was appointed by Gov. Fletcher a member of the board of commissioners to investigate the educational system of Vermont and at present he is a member of the state board of education.

Just how to furnish the government with 50 Vermont physicians with the least disturbance to the communities in which they are located, is a problem before the Vermont committee of the Medical Section of the National Council for Defense. Plans have been formulated by which the doctors will be selected within a week or ten days. The quota is called for duty by July 1. At the beginning of the war there were 668 practicing physicians in Vermont and 108 have already gone into the service. The addition of 50 more will bring the number down to 510, and it is expected that before many weeks elapse another call will be made which will further deplete the number. The committee made no selection of men last evening but decided to formulate the quotas as nearly as possible according to the ratio of doctors to the population. There will be no hard and fast rule, as in some of the rural communities it would work a decided hardship to take away a doctor, even if the proportion to the population is high. The larger towns and cities will probably be relied on to furnish the bulk. In a week or so the selections will be made and the doctors chosen will be notified. While there is nothing obligatory about going into the service, the selection amounts practically to a draft as no one refuses the service. Those called will naturally be of the younger doctors.

SAYS FRYING PAN MUST GO

Domestic Science Expert Says This Method of Cooking Food Is Wasteful.

Eugene, Ore.—"The frying pan must go," said Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the household arts department of the University of Oregon, before her class on the conservation of food.

"It is a utensil of the pioneer, who had plenty of food to prepare in the quickest and simplest way. The people of this country always have been wasteful, and unless we reduce materially our consumption of meat we shall face a meat famine. French people cook in a casserole, thus saving every bit of the nourishment of the meat. We could well learn from them in this matter."

GOT GOOD RESULTS

This honest, straightforward letter from a woman who has suffered should be read by all afflicted with backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, awful tired feeling and other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble: "I have got such good results from Foley Kidney Pills that I can sleep much better and the pain in my back and sides is a good lot better. I am going to keep on taking them. Mrs. Chas. Gray, 270 6th St., Detroit, Mich." Fred D. Pierce, Barton; G. H. Hunt, Evansville.

The Honorable Probate Court for the District of Orleans.

To all persons interested in the estate of Lucretia G. Frost, late of Barton in said District deceased.

GREETING:

At a Probate Court, holden at Newport, within and for said District on the 28th day of April, 1918, an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Lucretia G. Frost, late of Barton, in said District deceased, was presented to the Court aforesaid for Probate.

And it is ordered by said Court that the 28th day of May, 1918, at F. W. Baldwin's office in said Barton at 2:30 o'clock p. m. be assigned for proving said instrument; and that notice thereof be given to all persons concerned by publishing this order three weeks successively in the Orleans County Monitor, a newspaper circulating in that vicinity, in said District previous to the time appointed.

Therefore, you are hereby notified to appear before said court, at the time and place aforesaid, and contest the probate of said will if you have cause.

Given under my hand at Newport in said District this 26th day of April, 1918.

Avoiding the Rush Hours

EVERYONE knows that there are "rush hours" on the trolley and steam railroads.

Very few persons know that there are also "rush hours" in telephone traffic and that calls are likely to be delayed at certain hours of the day owing to an unusual amount of traffic. The busiest period usually is from 9 to 11 A. M.

Traffic congestion on railroads can be remedied to some extent by placing additional trains or cars on the line. Not so with telephone traffic; each message must have its own exclusive "track."

If the messages could have a more even distribution throughout the day it would assist in eliminating to a great extent the delays which sometimes occur at rush hours.

Urgent business calls cannot be deferred, but there certainly are many business and social calls that can be made outside the congested period.

By avoiding the high spots, 9 to 11 A. M., our patrons will assist us in our effort to meet the constantly increasing demands on our service caused by war conditions. This applies to toll calls as well as to purely local calls.
